INTRODUCTION

It was April 15, 1991 – an important day when a revolutionary step was taken by Ms. Shamim Bilgrami. This was the setting up of a school in Nusrat Bhutto colony, an under-privileged area near T-Block of North Nazimabad in Karachi. This was, in fact, the transformation of Ms. Bilgrami's dream, the dream of spreading the light of education. She had gathered and inspired six small children of the community, spreading a rug and asking them to sit. A small black board was placed along the wall and the business of teaching commenced with great enthusiasm. Maan Jee thanks God for fulfilling all her dreams and desires. She says she owes a great debt to the Almighty and wishes to pay it back by illuminating the lives of the poor people by giving them access to education. In Maan Jee's opinion, it is the backing and encouragement given to the privileged class that is leading our nation to backwardness. "If we dream of a bright future and of earning respect among nations," she says, "we must educate our children through a uniform educational system. All the children must be given common opportunities, education must be compulsory for all and provided by learned and devoted teachers. In addition, educational institutions must have a congenial environment, a purposeful curriculum and must offer a variety of co-curricular activities."

"After all, what is our purpose?" she asks and answers the questions by saying that what we seek to ingrain our children is endurance, a sense of responsibility, love for the country and humanity, and a will to do something great.

Vision And Mission

The objectives of these schools are:

- To provide education that "fosters an open mind, teaches respect and tolerance for diversity and develops a sense of civic responsibility".
- To provide employment opportunities to young girls from the communities, who are educated to the Intermediate or Bachelor level, by training them to become Teachers
- To use these schools as "civic centers" by organizing monthly meetings of the mothers of the students to discuss community and personal issues.

Association With Sindh Education Foundation

The Maan jee secondary school is linked with the Sindh Education Foundation, which helps support education. This connection means the school may receive assistance, resources, or guidance from the foundation to improve educational opportunities for students.

Objectives of Sindh Education Foundation

- Conceptualize and spearhead projects for the establishment of educational institutions especially in less developed or less privileged areas

- Evolve programs for raising the standard of education (quality) and improvement in literacy rate (access)
- Conduct research or surveys or hold workshops, conferences and symposia to study the educational system to identify its shortcomings and make suggestions for its improvement
- Provide financial help or grants to various NGOs and other educational agencies

Iqbal Day Celebration (9TH November)

Allama Iqbal Day is celebrated with great enthusiasm in our school every year. The students and teachers come together to honor the renowned poet and philosopher, Allama Iqbal, who played a significant role in inspiring the creation of Pakistan. On this special day, students participate in various activities such as poetry recitations, essay competitions, and cultural programs that highlight the life and contributions of Allama Iqbal. The celebration not only educates students about the cultural heritage of Pakistan but also instills a sense of pride in their national identity.

Student'S Visit In Art Competition

Our students visited and participated in the art competitions at Pakistan Art council. They saw lots of amazing artwork! Paintings and sculptures were everywhere, showing how creative students can be. The event was like a big celebration of art, and the students felt excited to be part of it. As they walked around, they learned about different ways people express themselves through art, and it made them think about their own creativity. The art competition was not just a contest; it was a fun and inspiring experience that showed the students how cool and diverse art can be.

Half Yearly Result Announcement

The school announced its half-yearly results, and it was a time for students to know how well they've been doing in their studies. The teachers revealed the grades and scores that each student earned during the first half of the school year. It was a moment filled with anticipation and excitement as everyone gathered to hear about their achievements. Some students were happy with their good grades, while others may have felt motivated to work harder. The announcement also gave parents a chance to see their child's progress and celebrate their successes. Overall, the half-yearly results were a way for everyone in the school community to reflect on their efforts and set goals for the rest of the academic year.

Distribution Of Full Attendance Certificate

At the end of November, every student eagerly awaited the distribution of their full attendance certificates. The day finally arrived, and the school assembly buzzed with excitement. The principal and Teachers commended the students for their commitment to attending classes regularly. Each student's name was called, and they proudly walked up to receive their certificate. Smiles and cheers filled the air as the students held their certificates, a symbol of their dedication to being present every day. The event not only celebrated punctuality but also fostered a sense of accomplishment among the students.

Student's week

Students' Week is a joyful time at our school, filled with excitement and activities. During this special week, students come together to celebrate their achievements, talents, and unique qualities. The school buzzes with energy as students engage in various events, including talent shows, sports competitions, and creative workshops. It's a time for everyone to showcase their skills and talents, fostering a sense of community and camaraderie. Teachers and students alike participate in fun-filled activities, creating lasting memories. The spirit of Students' Week reflects the vibrant and supportive environment in our school, promoting unity and appreciation for each student's individuality.

25th December Celebration

Quaid-e-Azam Day, celebrated on 25th December in our school, is a special occasion to honor the great leader, Muhammad Ali Jinnah. On this day, students and teachers gather to pay tribute to the founder of Pakistan through various activities and events. The school is adorned with flags, and students participate in speeches, quizzes, and cultural performances that highlight the significance of Quaid-e-Azam's vision for our nation. It's a day of reflection and patriotism, fostering a sense of pride in our heritage. The celebration brings the school community together, reinforcing the values of unity and gratitude for the leader who played a pivotal role in the creation of Pakistan.

Sindhi Culture Day Celebrations

At the school's Sindhi cultural celebration, students and teachers came together to embrace the rich heritage of Sindhi culture. Colorful attire, traditional music, and vibrant dances adorned the event, creating a lively atmosphere. The aroma of delicious Sindhi cuisine wafted through the air as everyone enjoyed the flavors of the region. Students enthusiastically showcased their talents through skits, poems, and art, depicting the essence of Sindhi traditions. The celebration served as a wonderful opportunity for the school community to learn about and appreciate the diverse cultural tapestry that Sindhi heritage contributes to our global society.

Library Set Up

FoMJS e.V. the major supporter of Maan Jee School has done a lot to improve the environment and learning conditions at Maan Jee Welfare Secondary School. With the help of FoMJS e.V. and Schmitz Foundation a new library room is ready for students now and later on for the community. Prior to this the corrugated iron roofs were replaced with concrete flat roofs on both buildings funded by Schmitz Foundation and FoMJS e.V.

This thoughtful contribution has enriched our library providing students with a diverse range of books to explore and enjoy. We extend our heartfelt thanks to Ms. Margarete Nawaz, all members of FoMJS e.V. board and the Schmitz Foundation for their support in fostering a love for reading and learning among our students. Your generosity has truly made a positive impact on our school community, and we are immensely grateful for your commitment towards education.
